

The Language Cartridge

Easily integrate professional language translations

TranslateMedia has released The Language Cartridge, a professional translation management extension for international digital commerce using Demandware.

The Language Cartridge enables seamless integration with Demandware and STREAM, TranslateMedia's translation management system. The technology can be integrated in minutes and extends the Demandware Business Manager with its own translation interface. It provides a fast, secure system to manage multiple sites across different markets and languages. The Language Cartridge is available to download on the Demandware LINK Marketplace.

'The Language Cartridge is fully certified and we're excited to offer all the benefits of our translation services to retailers directly from within Demandware'

Matt Train
Operations Director
TranslateMedia

MANAGE COMPLEXITY

- Translate a single product or your entire site into multiple languages
- Manage different brands and markets simultaneously
- Automate your content selection and translation management

EASY TO USE

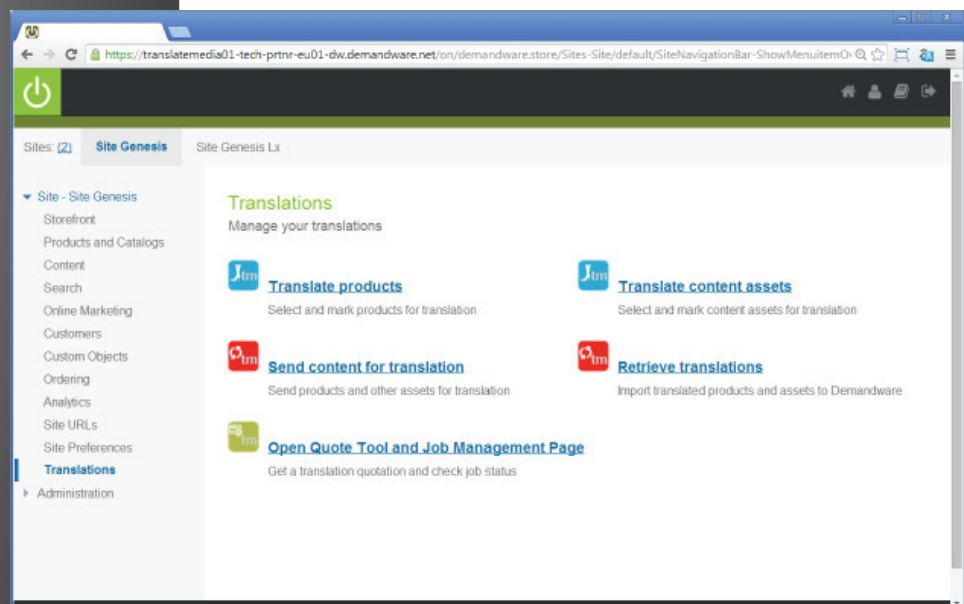

- Fully documented API and user manuals
- Initiate translations at the click of a button
- Integrate translations into your existing workflow

SECURE

- Secure platform with the latest SSL encryption
- Quick access to a powerful quotation and project management system

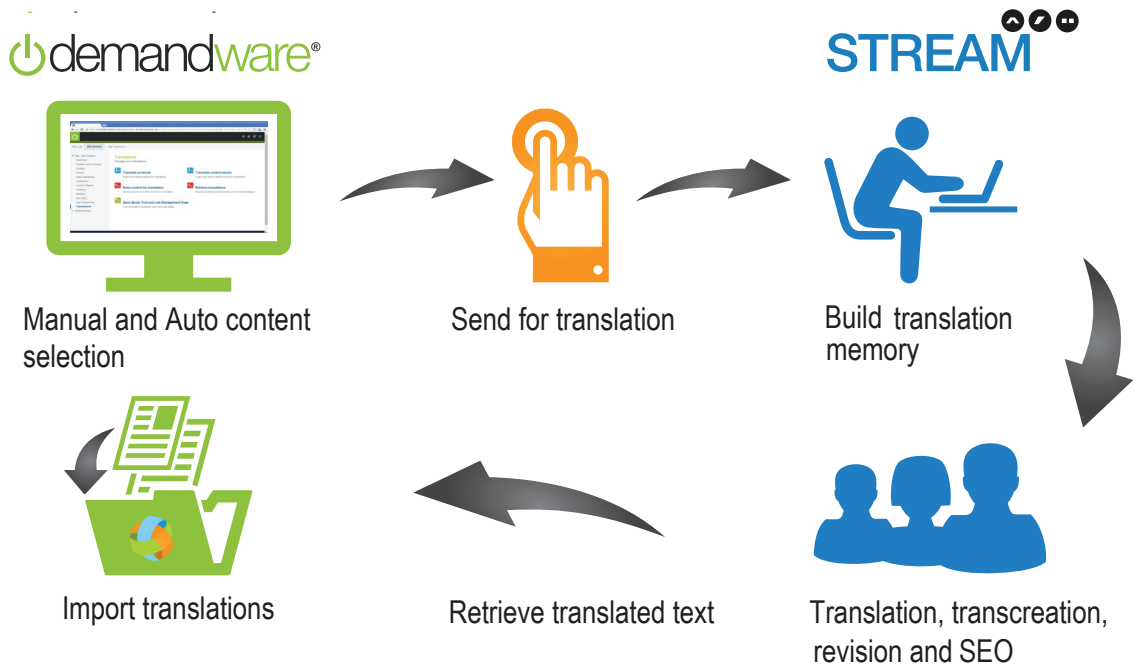

COST EFFICIENT

- No upfront costs for infrastructure, development or maintenance
- Significant cost savings from our advanced Translation Memory technology

The Language Cartridge: How it works

The Language Cartridge provides a solution that enables Demandware clients to select products and other digital assets and deliver them for translation directly from within the Demandware Business Manager.

TranslateMedia works with hundreds of retailers to help them communicate locally and grow their international businesses

6500

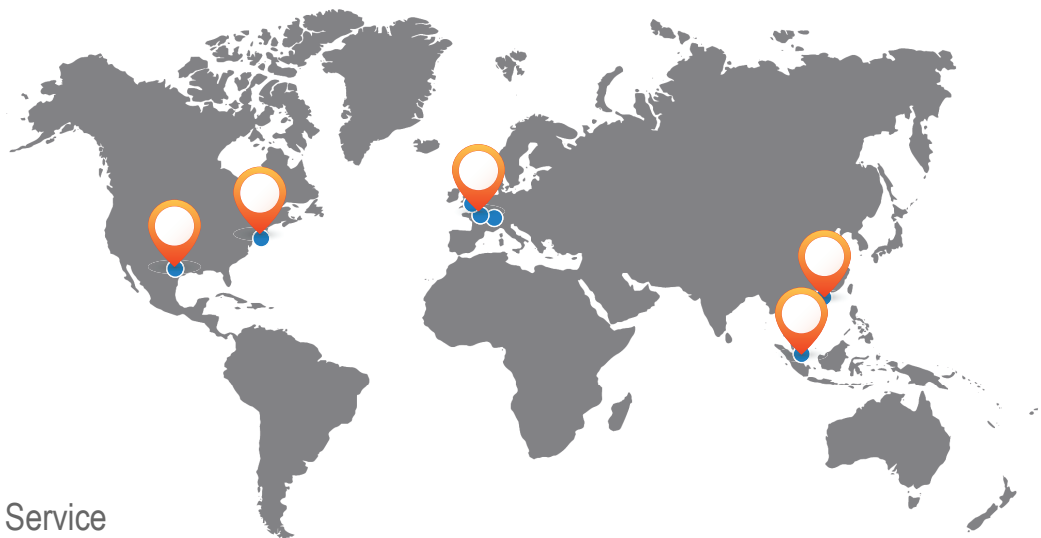

Translators

90

Languages

24/7

Global Customer Service

LONDON NEW YORK AUSTIN PARIS MUNICH HONG KONG SINGAPORE

To arrange for a demonstration or get more information, contact us directly or visit translatemedia.com/demandware

Maggie Little, Head of Retail and Ecommerce | maggie.little@translatemedia.com | +44 20 3137 2650